Ardbeg Grooves

Details

Bottelaar	Ardbeg
Regio	Islay
Leeftijd	NAS
Sterkte	46%

De naam Grooves is afgeleid van de speciale behandeling die de vaten kregen. Bill Lumsden liet een deel van de whisky rijpen in opnieuw getoaste rode wijnvaten. De char was zo intens dat er diepe groeven ontstonden in de oppervlakte van het hout. Dit leidde tot intensere smaken van gerookte kruiden, houtvuur en in chili gemarineerd vlees. De uitmonstering haalt zijn inspiratie uit de late jaren zestig, de tijd van Love, Peace and Happiness, en de tijd van de gevleugelde kreet "Groovy!".

Kleur: Licht rood amber.

Neus: Aroma's van gerookte paprika en kaneel, oud leer, barbecue, houtvuur, gerookt vlees, dennenhars, teer en de zilte zee. Een drup water geeft aroma's van lavendel, witte peper, koriander, munt en verse snijbloemen.

Smaak: Zilte entree, gevolgd door zoetheid van strooptoffe, vanille en zoete popcorn. De zoete tonen krijgen reliëf van rokerige barbecue, paprika, mosterd, roet en teer.

Afdronk: Begint met tonen van appel en peer, en vervolgt met gerokte paprika, rokerig houtvuur en een verfijnde zoetheid.

Sterkte	53,9%

Marriage of refill and rejuvenated American Oak Hogsheads and ex Bodega European Oak Butts.

Colour: Buttery chardonnay.

Nose: Some kind of salty leather with salted liquorice, seaweed and some pretty potent notes of germoline, floor cleaner and brake fluid. Feels quite powerful. Cured ham, brine, green olives and fresh lemon juice. An almost crystalline peat that gives it this blade like, precise and pure quality. With water: lime zest, crisp smoked cereals and some grassy olive oil.

Mouth: Crispy fish skin, peppered mackerel, smoked grist, more brine and lots of grilled oysters and seawater. Some salted almonds, tar resin and smoky bacon crisps. With water: hessian, squid ink, lemon throat lozenges and bonfire ash. Gets rather tarry and creosotey with notes of naphthalene after a while.

Finish: Long, ashy, earthy, warming and with a big, lingering fug of boiler smoke, kippers and bonfire smoke.

Port Charlotte The Heretic

Details

Bottelaar	Bruichladdich
Regio	Islay
Gedistilleerd	2001
Gebotteld	2018
Sterkte	55,9%

This year's release from Bruichladdich Distillery is a Port Charlotte Release selected by Head Distiller Adam Hannett, chosen to celebrate the relaunch of the Port Charlotte range. "The Last of the First": The very last five casks from Port Charlotte's first year of distillation in 2001. Adam has carefully married these five casks which previously held either American whiskey, rum or fine French wine.

- Nose: Cold peat smoke and smoked lemon slices. Pineapple, tangerines, sulphur. Overall, very fruity and fresh, the smoke, however, dominating. Spices: cinnamon, cloves and juniper.
- Palate: A reflection of the nose. Again, the cold peat smoke strikes directly, show smoked lemon, pineapple, mandarins. In addition smoked fish, a lot of dark chocolate, almond paste. Oak pushes forward and forms a unit with the chocolate.
- Finish: Medium long and only slightly dry. The smoke still swirls, dark men's chocolate has settled on the palate. Mild spices and a touch of oak. Vanilla, honey, almost mead.

Matured in Refill American Oak Hogsheads and Rejuvenated European Oak Butts.

Color: Gold.

Nose: Lots of citrus smoke, coal dust, whelks, shoreline, dried seaweed and a wee slug of olive oil. Gravelly and with a pleasing natural sweetness. Some tarry rope and old creel nets. With Water: lots of earthy smoke, coastal fug and oily sheep wool. A little bitter grapefruit and some salted almonds.

Mouth: Hot, punchy and rather sharp and jaggy - a kind of flint smoke and spiky mineral profile. With time there are some grilled meats with burning herbs, olive oil, soot and plenty of natural tar resin. Very good. With water: smoky bacon and black olives with anchovy paste and lemon skins. You could make a good puttanesca with this.

Finish: Long, sooty, sweet smoke and salted barley water. Very briny and ashy in the aftertaste.
